What is this meeting about?

The Land and Water Conservation Fund (LWCF) was established in 1965 to provide funds to local governments for acquisition of land and development of outdoor recreational facilities. Recreation properties and facilities funded under LWCF are protected for these uses. Section 6(f) of the LWCF states that these lands may not be converted to non-recreation uses without approval from the Secretary of the Interior.

LWCF funds were used in the acquisition and development of the Campbell Creek Greenbelt and Trail. The proposed improvements on West Dowling Road, including the new bridge across Campbell Creek, will result in DOT&PF acquisition of some areas covered by Section 6(f). Conversion of LWCF property is allowed if property of similar value, recreation utility and location is substituted.

The State of Alaska Department of Transportation and Public Facilities (DOT&PF) is proposing to acquire less than a half-acre of LWCF land to construct the road improvements and new bridge on West Dowling Road. The project is proposing to transfer approximately a half-acre of property to the Municipality of Anchorage, to construct a new trail parking area on this adjacent property, to construct a new grade-separated trail crossing under West Dowling Road, and to construct trail improvements from the Campbell Creek Trail to the new parking area and to the new pedestrian facilities along West Dowling Road.

DOT&PF invites you to a public meeting on the LWCF conversion. This public meeting will be held in an open-house format and will provide an opportunity for the project team to present information on the proposed improvements to the Campbell Creek Trail. Public questions will be answered and comments gathered.

The State of Alaska complies with Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. Individuals with disabilities who may need auxiliary aids, services, and/or special modifications to participate in this meeting should contact Jim Amundsen, (907) 269-0595, jim.amundsen@alaska.gov, or by TDD at (907-269-0973, no later than Wednesday, March 9, 2011 to make any necessary arrangements.
